Galactic Football League* (YA):

Do you wonder what the sport of football will look like in 700 years? Scott Sigler's Galactic Football League series depicts a game where humans and aliens play alongside each other in a battle so violent it makes today's NFL look like two-hand touch. Linemen weigh 800 pounds. Wide receivers jump 15 feet in the air. Team owners are in organized crime. And sometimes, players sacrifice their lives on the field. Football fans will really appreciate Sigler's in-depth and highly technical use of football jargon, as well as the way he breaks down the X's and O's while narrating the on-field action.
