

I added another author to my list of favorites. His name is Mike Lawson. Joe Demarco works for the Speaker of the House, a sometime corrupt politician, as his unofficial fixer and investigator. Each book pulls Demarco into another job for the Speaker. Joe never knows where his investigations will lead him or down what rabbit hole. Each book is interesting and intriguing. Each story is different. I enthusiastically recommend this series.

Submitted by Vicki Stone