The Bookshop on the Shore by Jenny Colgan Overdrive

This was the perfect book to help me escape from troubling news reports. Zoe is a single mother who is struggling to support herself and her 4 year old son in London. She finds two jobs in the Scottish Highlands – manager of a mobile book shop, and live-in nanny with a “horrible” family. Zoe’s ups and downs kept me engrossed on my Kindle.

Staying in the Highlands, The Café by the Sea, also by Colgan, is not a sequel but another good, easy read.
